Ready to buy Daily Livings Aids/AT items?

- Look for the "As Seen on TV" section at Wal-Mart, Target, Dollar General and other retailers.
- Ask the pharmacist if your retailer or pharmacy has a Daily Living Aids section.
- Contact local medical equipment sales/rental stores and ask about Daily Living Aids.
- Search Amazon.com.
- Search specialized vendors online, including SportAid.com, The Ability Superstore, RehabMart, Life Solutions Plus, ArthritisSupplies.com, and more. (Don't forget to request a catalog!)
- While most daily living items are relatively inexpensive, finance assistance for high-tech AT and durable medical equipment is available through the Southern Disability Foundation and STAR. Contact Kate Wallace at 334-293-7008 or kate.wallace@rehab.alabama.gov for more information.
- Find free AT training online at StarTraining.org.
